Emergency Numbers

The intent of this document is to provide jurisdictional chief elected officials, partner agencies, department heads, and volunteer organizations associated county contingency plans with a directory for use during emergencies or disaster response and recovery.

This directory is a living document and shall be updated frequently to reflect the most current information available. While this document may be posted on a local government website and accessible by the public, the intent is not to be a public directory for day-to-day services. For this reason, listings shall focus on those associated with the County Emergency Operations Plan (EOP), County Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP), covered under a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with a department as part of aforementioned plan, or is essential to response and recovery for a local jurisdiction.

Additions, subtractions, or corrections should be provided to the Clinton County Emergency Management Agency (EMA). The information contained herein was derived from organizational, departmental, and jurisdictional responses, or pulled from publicly accessible sites and records.
